

“The exhilaration of riding a scooter on Roman streets is like being in a movie scene of your own life.”

NEW YORK POST

“We’re taking the time to enjoy the ride, to see what’s around us, and to be seen,” she told Doane, perched on the back of her motorbike.”

“Seeing Rome from the seat of a cherry-red scooter is a slightly out-of-control adventure that made me feel vivacious, young, unrestrained and free. It was, well, la dolce Vespa.”

The Washington Post

CBS

“Forget sweaty buses and boring walking tours - the best way to see Rome is on the back of a Vespa.”

“With Scooteroma, you can take in the major landmarks from the back of a scooter; choose the ‘Roman’ Holiday’ trip for a ride on a vintage Vespa.”

Ride with Us

Experts specializing in Vespa tours, Scooteroma's Team of Vespisti delivers in 4 hours, what visitors to the Eternal City would see in 4 days. Guests experience a thrill as Vespa's glide across cobblestones with the Coliseum commanding them forward on one of their custom Street Art, Cinema, Foodie and Classic tours. Scooteroma's Squad intimately knows Roma and her secrets. Exploring Rome on these iconic wheels is the highlight of any Italian holiday.

Meet Annie + Giovanni

An American with Italian roots, Annie Ojile moved to Rome in 2005 and never looked back. She is the founder of Scooteroma and Personalized Italy with Italian business partner Giovanni Nerone. After scootering some family members around town on an impromptu tour, Ecco! Scooteroma was born. With a passion for Rome and her storied architecture, history and street art, traversing the streets on two wheels is just as thrilling today as it was all those years ago. Annie keeps her finger on the pulse of Rome and happily shares her best of Rome with each guest that hops on her cherry red wheels.

Born and raised less an hour from Rome in Fiuggi, Giovanni effortlessly personifies Italian cool. After having lived for years in England and Spain, Giovanni came home and built an impressive career in 5 star concierge service. He fluently speaks 3 languages, English, Spanish and of course Italian. With his quick wit and varied interests he's considered an aficionado in the topics of pasta, politics, music and even NFL football. With Mr. G as your guide you're in for a treat, he's sure to share one or two pieces of insider advice.

Together over the last 10 years, Annie and Giovanni have curated their team of talented Vespisti. More like a family, this savvy squad can be spotted together around Rome on their stylish rides.
